Workshop: BECOMING A LOVE & LOGIC PARENT®

Learn practical parenting tips.

The Becoming a Love and Logic Parent workshop provides parents with easy-to-learn tools to solve parenting problems and raise responsible, confident children.

Teach your kids about consequences.

Becoming a Love and Logic Parent will show you how to share control with your children while also teaching them accountability. You'll learn how to parent with empathy and logical consequences. You'll understand how you can create opportunities for your child to:

- Increase thinking skills.
- Anticipate and understand consequences.
- Apply problem-solving skills.
- Make better decisions.

About Love and Logic®

A well-researched and critically acclaimed professional program, Becoming a Love and Logic Parent is extremely effective at improving the behavior of children and adolescents through new parenting strategies.

The program was developed by school administrator Jim Fay, school psychologist Charles Fay, PhD, and renown psychiatrist Foster Cline, MD. The Love and Logic Institute, Inc. is located in Golden, CO. Learn more about the Love and Logic approach at www.loveandlogic.com.
